E. KY. PROGRESS LAUDED IN PHONE DEDICATION TALK

New Dial System
Dedicated Here
Wednesday Nite

Installation of dial system telephones in Morgan, Elliott and Wolfe counties will help erase the stigma of being referred to as "backward," Circuit Judge John A. Keck declared Wednesday night at the dedication of the Mountain Rural Telephone Co-operative's new three-county system.

The Sandy Hook jurist was the principal speaker at ceremonies celebrating the activation of the new dial telephone system. About 400 persons from the three counties attended the celebration in the Morgan County high school gym here.

"With the coming of roads, improved schools and better communication by dial phones, we are now catching up with other parts of Kentucky," Judge Keck said.

"But for too long now the rest of the state has referred to us here in Eastern Kentucky as backward. The unfavorable publicity over the years about sub-marginal agriculture, sub-standard schools and mud roads in the mountains have left a stigma that is not deserved. For in these things we are beginning to catch up with the rest of the state."

"We here in Eastern Kentucky don't ask for bundles from Washington. All we do ask is to be given an equal opportunity with the rest of the state. We have here in Eastern Kentucky the purest Anglo-Saxon blood anywhere, we have everything we need if we have the same opportunities as the rest of the state and nation. But we need more representation in our government from Eastern Kentucky."

Reminding his audience that the REA established by Congress in 1935 and later amended by Congress to provide for co-operative rural phone systems, Judge Keck said, "We are recipients of REA aid, for if it had not been for REA we would still be burning oil lamps."

"But the amended REA rural telephone act stipulated that it must be co-operative. The people of Morgan, Elliott and Wolfe counties have cooperated in this enterprise and now we are just approaching what many counties have had for many years—good communication."

"Also the improvement in recent years of our roads, of our agriculture enterprise and of our schools is resulting in what Eastern Kentucky is capable of being—a beautiful and progressive and prosperous section of Kentucky."

Walter L. Wolff of Washington, D. C. represented the REA at the celebration and presented the certificate of quality service to Wm. A. Heagen of Ezel, president of the co-op, who in turn presented the co-op, responded with a brief talk.

Mr. Wolff, himself a native Kentuckian, said he had talked to Morgan countians in the court house in West Liberty in 1939 to explain how they could obtain REA power through the new REA act. "Now you have a wonderful six-county REA system through cooperative efforts. And now" (Continued on page four)

A GAME WITH A FOX
(By JOHN J. JOHNSON)
Lenox, Ky.

Last Friday evening after my 8-year-old son came home from school I was hauling wood from a little way above the house near some woodland. My son decided to go with me after a load.

I was getting ready to hitch the mule to a load of wood, when my son gave an excited alarm and pointed up the hill. I said, "What is it, son?" I looked up the hill and to my surprise a large red fox was coming down toward us. It came in about 15 feet of us and started yelping at us. I rushed to my son's side and got a large stick.

My mule, dissatisfied with the state of things, went to the barn. I didn't ask it to stay if it didn't like the game.

I told my son we must have a gun. He was afraid to go after it. I finally got him to go by telling him if it followed I'd come too. While my son was gone I was keeping Mr. Fox scared off with the stick. I soon saw my son and 12-year-old daughter coming back to me. I then started to meet them and Mr. Fox followed close behind, yelping. I turned back to face him to make sure he played fair.

My son and daughter came up and handed me my 12 gauge shot gun and two shells. I felt relieved. Now, the next mountain fox that comes to play with me, I advise don't scare my mule.

Judge John A. Keck declared the new dial phones in Morgan, Elliott and Wolfe counties will help erase the stigma of being referred to as "backward." He made the principal address at a celebration in West Liberty Wednesday night to mark the activation of the new rural phone system.

Bookmobile Hampered By Weather and Roads

The severe weather has somewhat hampered the Bookmobile in its regular runs throughout the county, says the Bookmobile librarian, Mrs. Miriam Stewart. Though the mobile unit is making runs to many schools, some of the runs have had to be omitted until warm weather when the roads are in better condition.

Mrs. Stewart pointed out that all regular runs of the Bookmobile would be resumed as soon as possible. Many parents, she said, walk more than a mile to get to the Bookmobile so they can check out books for their children. She added that she believed the mobile library had meant more to the children of the county since it has been in operation than any other project.

Morgan county's Bookmobile was a gift from Judge Edward C. O'Rear of Versailles, and has been in operation here since last September.

WARD GIVEN 20 YEARS FOR RAPE IN COURT HERE

Five Get Probated
Terms For Frauds
In Ordering Goods

Clyde Ward of Moon was adjudged guilty of rape and sentenced to 20 years in prison by a jury in Morgan circuit court here Wednesday.

Ward, a native of Johnson county and now a resident of the Moon section of Morgan county, was accused by Mrs. Bonny Weddington Skaggs of criminally attacking her last July 16 after threatening her with a knife. The attack took place on Docks Creek near the Skaggs home. Ward's plea was that she consented. Mrs. Skaggs, now a resident of Columbus, Ohio, Ward was represented by Atty. Ben Mann of Salversville.

Petit juries were dismissed Thursday at noon but the grand jury is still in session. Judge Keck will return Monday to receive the final report of the grand jury, ending the term.

In addition to the Ward case, only one other case was tried by a jury, that of Arnold Short. Indictment charged with carrying a concealed weapon. He was acquitted of the charge.

Five persons were given prison sentences for misrepresenting their financial conditions in obtaining merchandise from Alden & Company of Chicago, but their sentences were probated. In the case of Maxine Elswick, found guilty and given a one-year term, the sentence was probated by the court for a period of five years on condition she is to pay all of the account. In the case of Millard Whitt and wife of Holiday, Mrs. Whitt accepted responsibility for the offense and was given a one-year term, which also was probated for five years on condition similar to the other cases. Names of children were used in ordering the merchandise.

W. M. Morris, field representative for the merchandising firm, was present at the trials.

Edgar Oldfield received a sentence of two years for child desertion without the intervention of a jury and the sentence was probated on the condition he would provide support.

The court passed formal sentence upon Robert Lee Harvey, 18, who was tried at the October term and given a five year sentence for the slaying of his uncle, Hargis Ross at Ezel last February. His motion for a new trial was overruled at the time but he was given until this term to file his bill of exceptions, which he failed to do. He was remanded to the State Youth Authority until he is 21.

Up to Thursday the grand jury had returned 15 true bills, ten of them felonies for grand larceny, child desertion, selling mortgaged property and cold checks.

Members of the grand jury are A. T. Lowe, foreman; Ora Robbins, Tommie Brooks, F. M. Lawton, Martha Motley, Harlan Ross, George Howard, James Gilliam, Fred Mays, Ben Salyers, Nannie Benton and Winfred Manning.

KY. FARM BUREAU AGENT SAYS 60% BURLEY CUT SEEN

Welsh Cites Over-
Production As Big
Danger to Program

Citing the huge over supply of burley on hand and the record production of burley last year, Jack Welsh, vice president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau, told Morgan burley growers here Saturday a reduction of 60% in acreage allotment might be necessary next year.

Walsh, chairman of the Kentucky Farm Bureau's tobacco committee, spoke to burley growers at a meeting called by the Morgan county farm bureau. About 90 burley growers attended.

Mr. Walsh said the burley co-operatives have over a year's supply of burley in storage and manufacturing companies have about three years' supply. "If we produce the same amount of excess burley in 1955 as last year and the consumption stays the same, it might require about a 60 percent cut under the present law for 1956," Walsh said.

Burley production has increased from an average yield of 1,045 pounds in 1940 to an average of 1,525 pounds in 1954, he said. A grower having a 10 acre base in 1940 now has approximately 7.7 acres but he is producing more burley on his present base than he did on the larger base in 1940.

Walsh stated, Walsh also said total acres in production in 1954 were greater than in 1940 despite the allotment cuts. This, he said, is due to tolerance ratios, bases for new farms, and red card or excess tobacco.

Walsh suggested that farmers get all the facts and then decide later what method they wanted to use to preserve the present production-control and price-support program.

Ezra Bach, president of the local farm bureau, presided, and Roy Nickell introduced Walsh.

This week the Kentucky Farm Bureau executive committee at a meeting in Lexington approved a program calling for tighter curbs on excess burley production. The program approved by the committee was described by John Coon, executive secretary, as formalizing of proposals submitted earlier this year by the tobacco committee.

"We must cut out excess tobacco and reduce allotments," said Burl S. Clair, president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau.

The Federation's program proposes that penalty on growing excess tobacco be increased to 75% from the present 50%, that all excess burley be destroyed in the field, that one person be responsible for all measurements in a county and that new allotments be based on qualification of landowners and not of tenants.

NEW T.B. THERAPY TOLD AT MEETING

Dr. Duane Jones, medical director of the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Ashland, discussed the new developments in treatment of tuberculosis at the February dinner meeting of the Mid-Eastern Kentucky Medical Society in Stamper's dining room here Wednesday evening.

Dr. Jones said that three new drugs, streptomycin, PAS, and isonicotinic acid, had made it possible to operate on patients who would have been inoperable a few years ago. He said also that these drugs are shortening the time of recovery for many patients and that mortality from chest surgery now is about 4% as compared to 50% to 90% a few years ago. Bed rest and proper diet, however, are still essential in treatment of the disease, he added.

BONDING FIRM SAYS $22,800 IS RECOVERED

Loot Was Found

SANDY HOOK, Ky., Feb. 22—A report that $22,800 of the $23,928 in currency stolen from the Peoples Bank of Sandy Hook had been recovered by the bonding company, the Fidelity and Deposit Corporation of Maryland, was confirmed today by the Indianapolis branch office of the firm.

Sheriff D. A. Lewis, Jr. was informed Monday by Robert Stowe, F. B. I. agent of Ashland, that the bonding company had recovered the $22,800 of the stolen money and that it was actual loot taken from the bank.

No details of how the money was recovered or who turned it in could be obtained.

The bonding company had offered a reward of 20% of any of the money that was returned. This would have amounted to a reward of $4,560.00.

Two masked men armed with revolvers robbed the Peoples Bank shortly before closing time the afternoon of Nov. 19. They locked the cashier R. W. Thompson and his wife, a clerk in the bank vault and escaped with $23,928 in currency.

Late that night a posse led by Morgan County Sheriff Aaron Lykins arrested Orbra Jack Metcalf, 23, of Germantown, Ohio and Ernest Carter, 20, of Germantown at the home of Carter's cousin, George Wilbur Lewis at Zag, Morgan county.

Metcalf and Carter later were tried in U. S. District Court at Catlettsburg and sentenced to 20 years each in prison. They denied the robbery and never revealed to officials the hiding place of the stolen currency.

Local officers, State Police, the F.B.I. agents and representatives of the insurance company had made exhaustive searches in the Zag section for the money. Also numerous citizens had made wide searches in the region.

On Feb. 3rd, the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, which had immediately repaid the bank for the insured funds stolen, offered a reward of 20% of any cash recovered from the $23,928 in currency stolen from the bank. Notices of the reward were published in the Elliott County News and the Licking Valley Courier.

ONE WAY TO GET A PLANT TO LOCATE IN YOUR TOWN

Sometimes you just have to take the bull by the horns. Like they did four years ago in Ashland, Kentucky.

A plant stopped working in Ashland and the building was to be torn down. Folks in Ashland knew what this meant and they decided to do something about it.

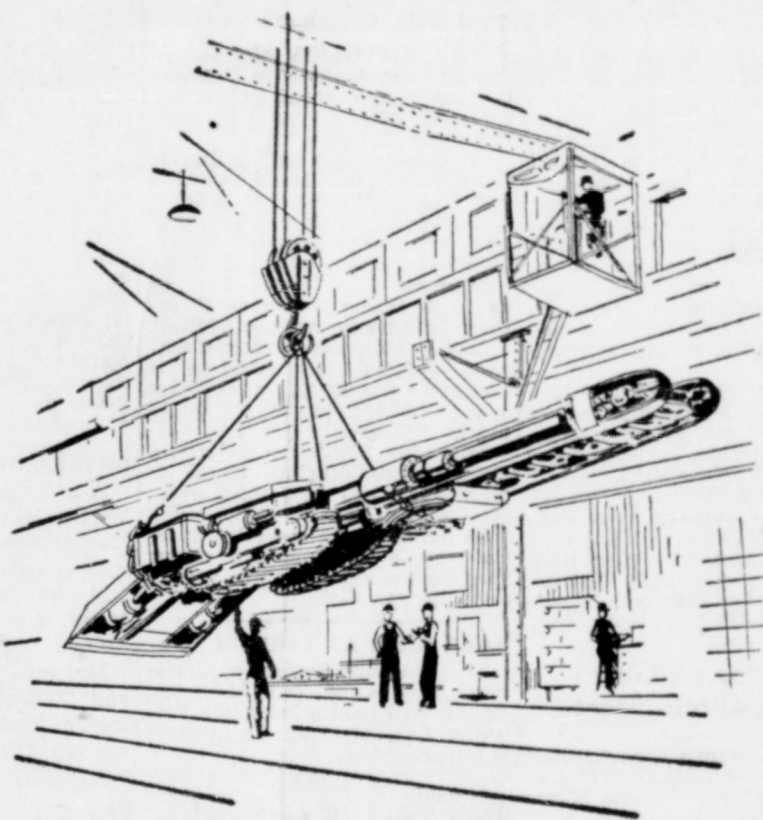

They bought the building. They got the money by forming the Boyd County Industrial Corporation and selling stock. They thought if the building were available, another industry would be more likely to come to Ashland.

They advertised the building in many publications. About a year later, National Mine Service Company bought the building and established a plant there.

Officials of the company later said they decided to locate in Ashland partly because the building was already there. They knew it would serve their purpose after some alterations.

The Ashland plant now employs about 60 people. Under full operation it will have about 120 workers.

This is the second in a series of advertisements by the Kentucky Power Company in the interest of the area it serves.

NEW WAYS FOR NEW INCOMES

Lotts Creek Group Makes Money At Something They Never Tried Before

Ever try something you've never done before... and have it be a great success? That's what a group of people in the Lotts Creek Section of Perry and Knott Counties have done.

They're growing and selling farm produce... and making money at it. Making money at something they never tried before.

They've organized the Lotts Creek Fresh Vegetable Growers, Incorporated. They built a processing shed where they bring their produce to be sorted and packed. They sell their products on the Hazard markets.

"We estimate that we supplied about 10 per cent of the fresh produce sold on the Hazard markets last year," the Growers' president said recently. "Our primary crops were potatoes, beans, corn, tomatoes and watermelon. This year we hope to add other produce."

Folks said you just couldn't make any money from farming on Lotts Creek. Somebody had an idea it could be done... and proved it by doing it.

Ideas like these—once put to work—are helping this area. If you have such an idea, give it a chance to do some good. Tell it to the editor of this newspaper... or write to us, the Kentucky Power Company.

Eastern Kentucky will improve only as its people improve it—

SILVER HILL (By Nola Bradley)

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bradley received word Wednesday that his son Dewie Bradley was in a Columbus, Ohio hospital and had undergone a serious operation.

W. B. Wright of Silverhill is very busy in the fruit tree business.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Robins are visiting a few days with his father, Jake Robbins, at Dingus.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bradley went to Columbus, O. Wednesday night to see his son Dewie in the Mt. Carmel Hospital. They found him doing nicely.

Curtis Bradley of Rush made a trip to Coffee Creek Wednesday.

Robert Franklin of San Diego, Calif. is now at sea for six or eight weeks before returning to his home there.

I am enclosing a letter which I received by mail from a minister in San Diego, Calif. I enjoyed it so much I feel others would too. And Marie, when you read this letter, you shake hands with those nice people whom you speak to me about in your letters, and thank them for me—

Mr. and Mrs. John Bradley Silver Hill, Ky.

Greetings in the name of the Lord. I know you will be surprised to get this letter from me but since your children, Robert and Marie, have moved close to us here in Ocean Beach we have learned to love them so much, and too they are striving to draw night unto the Lord. I just wanted to write you and congratulate you an raising a girl like Marie, and too I am feeling good after a baptismal service we had last evening. We baptised a man and his wife that had given up in life and they thought there was no chance for them to ever come to the Lord. They had tried and tried and had failed so many times. As my wife and I worked with them the spirit of the Lord brought to my mind Matt. 18:21-22 where Jesus taught forgiveness, and Jesus never did ask His children to do any thing that He would not do Himself. As the light came to them they both began to seek the Lord with a new vision of the goodness of God and His great plan for the welfare of His people.

I'm so glad for that blessed hope we have in the Lord and the thought of His coming and taking His blood washed people away in the very near future. I don't think it will be very long; then the saints of the earth will rejoice as we see in St. Luke 21:25-36.

Well, I must close this, and if we never meet here on this earth I trust on that great day when the redeemed of the Lord are gathered home we shall meet each other there and dwell together throughout eternity.

From unseen friends,
MR. & MRS. R. L. TURNER
San Diego, California

The handshake clasp between two men it is today, has always been. The greatest way on earth to greet Each other when we chance to meet. A handshake seems to start, begin, Arousing something from within. It seems to rather touch a spot That otherwise would be forgot.

"Souls In Conflict" Newest Billy Graham Film, to be Shown March 2

"Souls In Conflict," the fourth motion picture released by Evangelist Billy Graham, this one filmed against the backdrop of his high successful London Crusade, will be shown in Salsersville March 2 at 7:30 in the grade school. All seats are free.

"Souls In Conflict" is a trilogy, a full-length production in color which documents the life stories of an actress, a jet pilot, and a factory worker, as they are influenced by Graham's spiritual messages—delivered before audiences numbering as many as 120,000 persons in vast Wembley Stadium.

Since his first major campaign in America, in Los Angeles, Calif., in 1950, Graham has supplemented his ministry with the coast-to-coast radio broadcast, the "Hour of Decision," over ABC carried by 300 stations here in America and approximately 50 foreign stations.

In 1952 increased use of religious films brought about the formation of Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc., "Mid-Century Crusade," a documentary of Graham's Portland, Oregon campaign was the first production for this new organization. "Mr. Texas," the world's first Christian Western, which saw 25,000 persons crowd Hollywood Bowl for its premiere, followed "Oiltown U. S. A.," a story of the message of evangelism in millionaire circles in Houston, Texas, was the third such film.

Inasmuch as the now historic London Crusade was Graham's most ambitious endeavor, "Souls In Conflict" is his most important picture. Featured in the cast are Joan Winmill, star of the British TV thriller, "Epitaph for a Spy," Eric Micklewood and Charles Leno. Miss Winmill was one of those who "came forward" in Haringey Arena, later to receive counsel in the interview room from none other than Mrs. Billy Graham.

Donn Moomaw, six-foot-four, All-American linebacker from UCLA, who turned down a most lucrative offer to play professional football to follow the dictates of his heart in the field of evangelism, is also prominently featured, as is Coleen Townsend Evans, ex-Warner Brothers and 20th Century-Fox player.

"Souls In Conflict" was produced for Billy Graham by Great Commission Films, Hollywood, in association with Anglo-Scottish Pictures, London. Dick Ross wrote and directed the picture assisted by Leonard Reeve. The special musical score was composed and conducted by Ralph Carmichael.

Billy Graham's motion picture, "Mr. Texas," will be shown Mar. 1 at 7:30 in Salsersville also.

The Morgan site answered all these requirements. The Frenchburg hospital is only nine miles away and the West Liberty Hospital and the Gullett-Spencer Clinic are about 14 miles away. It is possible also that a surfaced road can be built from the Ezel-Mussel Shoals road to the new camp. Electricity and telephone service also is available. Swimming is available in Licking River, and the land offers ideal camping surroundings.

A special committee that visited the site last week is of the opinion that it could be used this summer for what it termed primitive camping and overnight and week end troop camping.

The camp will serve Girl Scout troops in Morgan, Menifee, Montgomery, Clark, Bourbon, Woodford and Franklin counties. There are between 1,000 and 1,200 Girl Scouts in the area and they will be given opportunity to attend camp at the new area camp.

RURAL PHONES

you've done it again, this time with a cooperative telephone system," he said. "I'm a little bit touched—it's a coincidence to return in 15 years and compliment you again for your cooperative spirit. This is the fourth cooperative telephone system to be cut over in my eight state region. Not all have shown the progressive leadership as you have," he said.

The president of the co-op, Mr. Heagen, presided at the celebration and introduced the speakers. Commonwealth Attorney W. Major Gardner of West Liberty, who gave the welcome address, said the coming of the new phone system is due primarily to cooperation and also the praise is due the three counties for their progressive spirit.

Mr. Heagen said that the cooperative was formed Feb. 9, 1950 and that the telegram which came from REA a few years ago notifying him that the first grant of $288,000 had been approved, had to be mailed to him.

Rev. Charles Vansant of Sandy Hook spoke the invocation and Rev. J. Ryan Nevius the benediction.

The 42-piece Morehead College band played a number of musical selections during the program. Forty-five businesses and individuals in the three counties donated prizes for the celebration and these were given away as door prizes during the evening. A complete list of the donors and recipient will be carried next week.

The co-op, Manager Woodrow W. Barber announces, has built 342 miles of lines in the three counties and is now serving approximately 900 patrons. Each of the patrons paid $37 for equity in the co-op and for installation charges. REA made loans totaling $743,000 to the co-op.

Headquarters of the system is in West Liberty and sub-station exchanges are at Sandy Hook, Campton, Ezel and Hazel Green.

"JIM BO" IT SWIMS

JIM BO—the most sensational invention in the history of fishing—the artificial minnow that swims. No more live bait to buy. This is the lure sensation of the 20th century.

IT SWIMS—no springs, uses no fuel; it swims as long as you leave it in the water. Swims by unique process of balance and gravity. Fish any desired depth—in lake, stream, gulf, bay. Any fish that will strike a minnow will strike JIM BO. This is no gadget. Looks and swims like a live minnow.

This is the lure of all lures—beautiful silver lead plastic. Buy one for your friends also. Satisfaction guaranteed. Send $1.00 only, for each lure. Send check or cash. We pay postage. Sold by mail only.

EZEL FFA CHAPTER

Ezel chapter of FFA has 33 members this year. Officers of the chapter are—

James Robert Wells, president; James Walter Nickell, vice-president; Roger Nickell, secretary; Freeland Watson, treasurer; Otham Huff, reporter; Jerry Murphy, sentinel; Albert Dorsey, advisor.

Future Farmers of America motto—Learning To Do—Doing To Learn—Learning to Live—Living to Serve.

FFA Creed—I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds—achievements won by the present and past generations of farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggles of former years.

I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I can not deny.

I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and the public.

interest in marketing the product of our soil. I believe we can safeguard those rights against practices and policies that are unfair.

I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so—for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

MORGAN NATIVE SUICIDE MONDAY

James Clifford Cantrell, 28, of Ashland who was born and reared on Coffey's Creek, a son of Granville Cantrell, died in Ashland Monday of a self-inflicted bullet wound in the brain.

Members of the family said he had been despondent since the death of his father Nov. 6. Mrs. Cantrell told Ashland officers her husband was in the bedroom while she was preparing breakfast for their three children. She heard a shot and found her husband lying on the bed. Cantrell was taken to King's Daughters Hospital where he died within 30 minutes. The bullet from a .32-caliber revolver entered his right temple.

Cantrell had been unemployed since selling Cliff's Market on 13th Street, Ashland, several weeks ago.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ruth Fossom Cantrell; two daughters, Linda Lee and Judith Elaine; a son, James Edward; his mother, Mrs. Maggie Cantrell, Ashland; a brother, Buford Cantrell, Russell, and three sisters, Mrs. Marry McNeal and Mrs. Wallace Kirk, Jr., Ashland, and Maria Kay Cantrell, Westwood.

MILK TO HOLD STEADY

Farmers may expect about the same prices for milk and cream this year as in 1954, says the outlook report of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Demand for milk and milk products may be a little stronger, while volume of milk production and costs of feed probably will be about the same. Milk production reached all-time high levels in 1953 and again in 1954, despite droughts. Normal pasture and crop conditions this season could bring a new high production of milk, if about the same number of cows are milked, says the report.

PRIZES FOR CORN

The Mahshall County Soil Improvement Association is providing prizes for farmers having high yields of corn.

MYF Hears Talks By B. E. Whitt

Bernard E. Whitt was speaker at the Sunday evening meeting of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, which met at six o'clock at the Methodist church.

The meeting opened with the singing of hymns by the group, with David Gullett playing the piano. Miss Pam Perry was in charge of the devotional, followed by prayer by Linda Christian Emrick. The business session was in charge of the president, Miss Ollie Marie Nickell.

In his talk, Mr. Whitt pointed out the many disappointments and hardships that great people in the world had to endure before they became successful. He told the young people to search their own hearts and to know themselves and their way would be easier, but not without its disappointments, too.

Following the program, games were enjoyed.

The group would like to thank Mrs. Jerald Amys for the delicious refreshments of ice cream and cup cakes.

YOCUM—

AN INNOCENT CASE OF KIDNAPPING

YOCUM, Ky., Feb. 20—(By Cassie Lewis)—Saturday morning Miss Devene Quicksall was enroute to West Liberty with two lady friends and stopped on the way to pick up a lady and her children, when another car stopped to let an occupant talk with the lady who had just placed her small child in the back seat of Miss Quicksall's car and quickly became engaged in conversation with a friend in the second car. Miss Quicksall and friends, who were in a hurry and not knowing how long the conversation would last, started on their way not realizing the child was in the back seat. They had gone more than one-half mile before the child was noticed as the child did not speak or make any noise. When the child was discovered, Miss Quicksall returned it to the frightened mother.

There has been some inquiry of late about J. D. Engle, Jr. He is at 286 Swigert Ave., Lexington, and is teaching at Lafayette High. He attended an educational conference at Columbia University, New York City, Feb. 7, 8, and 9 and went sight-seeing while there.

Rev. and Mrs. Gary Sentz and three children of Russellville, Tenn. were week end guests of Miss Mildred Wilbur of Yocum.

Week end guests of W. H. Quicksall and family were Mr. and Mrs. Don O'Conner, Mrs. Paul McDaniel and two daughters of Dayton, Mrs. Ben Terrell of Middletown, Carl Fraley of Fairborn, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Peavy, and Mrs. Dora Mullins of Sudith. All the above named are relatives of Miss Lexie Rae Pieratt of Yocum who is a patient in West Liberty Hospital. They visited her before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. Onzie Engle left Sunday for Hazard where Mrs. Engle's mother, Mrs. Steve Knox, will submit to surgery.

Miss Devene Quicksall, Mrs. Dora Lewis and Mrs. Elmer Lewis of Yocum were guests Saturday of Mrs. Lorraine Hurley and Mrs. Mary Engle of West Liberty. They also visited with Mrs. Emma Johnson and Rett Brown of Pomp. Mr. Brown suffered a light stroke of paralysis about two weeks ago and is improving.

HOUSE PLAN No. 48

PLANNED TO A FINE POINT

We offer a lot in FARM and RANCH House Plan No. 5248—three comfortable-size bedrooms with plenty of closet space, large living room, a separate dining room, a nice kitchen with space for serving the family meals, a separate workroom, and good looks.

All of these things can be arranged in 1,600 square feet of heated floor area. There is no wasted space, no unnecessary turns or corners in the foundation or roof. By observing such simple economies as arranging all of the plumbing for the kitchen, bath, and workroom in one centralized area, providing a bearing partition you can have a brick veneer home for the price of the ordinary siding. We suggest that you build the garage and workroom with wood siding for added economy—and a very attractive contrast.

The casement windows, long overhanging eaves, brick veneer, and concrete slab foundation will be of great value in keeping upkeep costs at a minimum.

Both the garage and workroom could be left off for those who do not have large quantities of milk, eggs, and other produce that you handle through the kitchen area and who have a garage already built.

You will like the kitchen. It has 20½ feet of counter space if you use a table-top water heater; otherwise it will have 18½ feet. The small entrance way between the garage and workroom makes it convenient to get in from either side of the house or garage. This area could serve as a trap to keep flies out of the house. Simply close it in with a screen door on each side and use a third screen as you come into the workroom.

You can obtain blueprints for this FARM and RANCH House Plan No. 5248 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, Farm and Ranch—Southern Agriculturalist, Dept. E-89, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number—Plan No. 5248. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.
